TO THE TIMES ONLY.

The Railway War in Manitoba—Track Laid But Immediately Torn Up.

Fighting Small-Pox at Toronto—A Test Case on Taxation.

[Special to THE TIMES.]

Winnipeg, Oct. 26—The Government railway employees effected a crossing of the Glenboro branch on Wednesday night, but the track was promptly torn up by the C. P. R. men last night. The Northern Pacific made an attempt to put in a diamond at Morris, but Supt. Whyte was on hand with a force of 300 men and built a strong fence over the line. The excitement at Morris is at fever heat, and the lynching of Supt. Whyte was threatened. The second injunction comes up for hearing to-day.

Winnipeg, Oct. 26—4.30 p.m.—The railway question is hanging in an unsettled state. The injunction is being argued this afternoon before Judge Killam. If the Judge dissolves the injunction, the Northern Pacific will attempt a crossing almost immediately. Strong resistance from the C. P. R. is certain until the question is decided by the Supreme Court. The military are in readiness to prevent any conflict. If a collision occurs the Northern Pacific will be the aggressors. The C. P. R. is well prepared to offer almost formidable resistance and to thoroughly protect their rights and property. The Judge's decision is expected to-morrow morning.

Quebec, Oct. 26—Worthy, the defaulting cashier of Cleveland, Ohio, is not aboard the Polynesian for Liverpool. If he sails by the Polynesian he will join her at Rimouski.

Toronto, Oct. 26—The outbreak of smallpox near the valley of Keswick has stirred up the medical health department here to renewed ability so that danger to citizens from that quarter will be avoided. All employees of hotels at which farmers from that section usually stay, have been vaccinated, and also trainmen of lines of railway running the infected district.

FROM OTTAWA.

Taxing Northwest Land Co.'s Land—New Railway Line.

[Special to THE TIMES.]

Ottawa, Oct. 26—The Supreme Court to-day took up the case of Angus vs. Calgary School Board. The appellants are the Northwest Land Company, who contented that they were not liable to taxation for school purposes, as the land has not been sold and conveyed by the C. P. R. Co. A motion was made to quash the appeal and this was allowed with cash. The decision is a most important one.

James Coumee, M. P. P. for Algoma, is here promoting the Ontario and Rainy River Railway, to run from Port Arthur to Winnipeg. It is forty miles shorter than by the C. P. R. route, and traversing a richer country. "The survey from Lake of the Woods to Port Arthur is completed.

Judge Clark is preparing the case for the C. P. R. covering the railway dispute, and will submit it. Mr. Martin will be here to-morrow.

FROM VANCOUVER.

Football and Boxing—Arbor Day—Price of Milk, Etc.

[From our own Correspondent.]

Vancouver, Oct 25.—About 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon the fire bell rang an alarm for an imaginary blaze in Chinatown. The department turned out in quick order, but there was happily nothing to do. There are a great many travelers in the city just now and nearly all the hotels are full.

A game of football takes place to-day at 3:30 between all comers and the following team: Forwards—Boulthee, Dowse, Tripp, Hammersley, (captain) Johnson, Roonsefell, Robertson, Robinson, Tatlow; halfbacks—Crickmay, Holt; three-quarters—Elwood, Watson, and quick back R. G. Harvey.

Yesterday a meeting of the Vancouver Boxing and Athletic Club took place in A. B. Diplock's office, when it was decided to erect a building suitable for the practice of gymnastics.

To-day is Arbor Day and has been proclaimed a civic holiday by his Worship the Mayor, and as it is fine, though windy, there is not a doubt but that many trees will be set out to adorn and beautify the city in the near future. The scholars went to school to-day, feeling that a great injustice was being done them by not giving them a holiday, but they soon returned in high glee as the trustees were prevailed upon to grant a holiday. It would have been very unfair to have denied them the privilege of Arbor Day to themselves. In fact it might have been an occasion for adding to the charms and interest of the playground by devoting a portion of the day to setting out trees around it.

The dairymen of this city held a meeting on the 23rd inst. for the purpose of considering the interests of their business. In view of the prospects of a dry winter, dear fodder, and an increased demand it was decided to set the price of milk at 50 cents a gallon to private families, and 40 cents a gallon to hotels and stores after the 1st of November.

The auction sale of Government lands was concluded yesterday. Prices ranged at good figures and the bidding was kept up pretty lively to the end. X

MOODY'S MEETINGS.

The Story of the Prodigal Son—A Powerful Plea.

The Roller Rink was crowded last evening; the weather was fine and people were anxious to avail themselves of the pleasure of hearing Mr. Moody before he closes his mission in Victoria, this being the last meeting but one. The rink filled rapidly, and the excellent singing of the choir, in full force, under the leadership of Mr. Brown, rendered the singing of the several hymns in an excellent manner, seeming never to tire. The Congregation joining, the effect was grand and the soul inspiring. After prayer and other preliminary exercises Mr. Moody, in his introductory remarks, made reference to very complimentary terms to the excellent reports of the meetings in the city newspapers, and recommended that everyone should purchase papers, mark them and send them to their friends. He also recommended the support of the Y. M. C. A., by all true Christians, and hoped that the young men who had been blessed during the mission services would attach themselves to that excellent Association.

After a short prayer by Mr. Moody, and the singing of a hymn, he took for his subject the story of the "prodigal son." He said: I want to call attention to the parable of the prodigal son. There was a difference between the two sons. They were both good and both bad. One sinned in his disposition, and the other in the body. The prodigal who went away had his eyes blinded with pleasure. I think that the father made a great mistake, like many other fathers, in giving that boy his portion. Rich people make a mistake in piling up their money for their children. A rich man's son was handicapped in this world; he did not have a fair start in the great battle of life. Better let boys earn their own living. We don't know where this boy got to, perhaps down to Memphis, and when he got there it did not take him long before he got through with all his money. He was a good fellow all the time—smoking the best cigars and drinking the best wine, and treating the boys like the jolly good fellow he was. What did he care for home restraints or his mother's Bible. He went in for a good time, and no doubt he had it as long as it lasted. By and by there came a change; there was a famine and it does come. No man turns his back on home but what he soon meets with a famine. This man goes to the pawnbroker's, pawns his watch, rings, clothes, &c; but no one helps him. The very men who smoked his cigars and drank his wine made fun of him, and in his ruin called him a dude, a fool. Yes, the very men who helped him to ruin made fun of him. There was some good, however, about this young man; he didn't beg, or steal, or loaf. He went looking for a job. Perhaps he wanted to get into a store as a clerk; at last he got work with a man that kept swine. And he went into the field and "fain would fill his belly with the husks the swine did eat." That is the way of the world now. The tavern-keepers will kick a man out as soon as his money is gone. The prodigal boy now will think of other days—days when he had all his home comforts. He thought of his father's servants; how much better off they were than he. It was a battle, the power of God drawing him back, and the power of sin drawing him on. Look for a moment at the old home; look at the old father? Not a moment, but that father was thinking all these years about his wayward boy. The prodigal lost everything he had taken from the old home, but there was one thing he didn't loose—a father's love. The servants could have told how often the father had prayed for that poor boy. Oh! how much he loved him, notwithstanding his sin. He now loved him more, and every moment he waited his return. It was that brought the son home again. How true is the 'love of God that leadeth to repentance. So this boy begins to think of his father's love. How he thought of the parting tears and the begging request not to go. Sin still draws him on, but victory comes by and by. He raises up and says, "I will!" what joy in the old home. As he draws near home now his heart leaps for joy. "No place like home." I can think when I left home I would be all right, but look what a poor prodigal I am!" He is at last in sight of the old home. His father goes up to the housetop to pray as was the custom, having for days and days watched for his son's return. He sees his boy away in the distance; he rushes down the road to meet the poor prodigal. All the servants wondered why the old man should hurry so. At last they meet; the father falls upon his son's neck. The joyful father calls for the robe, and the ring, and shoes for his poor son's bleeding feet. They kill the fatted calf, and make ready the feast. What a feast and what a preparation for the son which was dead and is alive again. The prodigal feasts as he had not done for many a long day and cries for joy. He had enough of sin—of husks, of rags and of hunger. He didn't want to go away again. No man when he gets home to God ever wants to go away. This is the story the prodigal is intended to teach us that our God is full of compassion and love! Not a drunkard or fallen woman in this meeting to-night but what may feel that God is love." The speaker here related a story of his own brother who left his home after his father's death, and graphically described in his own peculiar style the anxious mother waiting for her boy's return, and her forgiveness. Friends, God loves you. His heart is full of compassion. He stands to-night with outstretched arms waiting for your return. Oh! come to Jesus, come to-night. Come now.

The meeting was brought to a close by the singing of a hymn, and the pronouncing of the benediction by the Rev. Mr. McLeod. Many sought the consultation of the enquiry room. The discourse was fully up to the well known reputation of the speaker, full of feeling and pathos.

The morning service at the Presbyterian church was attended by a large number of eager christians, as was also the afternoon services in Pandora street church. Space prevents us from giving as full an account as we would wish. The mission of Mr. Moody will be brought to a close by the meeting this evening at the rink at 8 o'clock, which will be of more than usual interest. Should the weather be fine a large congregation will, in all probability, be in attendance. The usual choir practice at 7:30.

Donald News.

On hearing the rumor that the C. P. R. had got hold of the Ainsworth charter and would immediately commence work on the road, real estate owners of Revelstoke made a re-valuation of the property. R. E. Lemon now considers himself worth $200,000, J Fred Hume a quarter of a million, William Cowen $75,000, John Stone $50,000, Fred Fraser $25,000, Abrahamson Brothers $65,000, W. M. Brown $165,000, Fred Hobbs $75, and Jack Oats $80 worse than nothing. John McLeod has no real estate in Revelstoke, but expects to knock out a few thousand if Nelson booms in the spring.

Donald is getting to be quite a favorite trading place for the Kootenay Indians. All owing, no doubt, to the friendly interest manifested by Rafe Kimpton to the tanas pappooses.—Donald Truth.

Steamer Umatilla.

Messrs. Welch, Rithet & Co., agents for the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, received a telegram this morning announcing that the steamer Umatilla will not arrive from the Sound before to-morrow. The hour of sailing will be later than usual in consequence.

ALL THE WORLD OVER.

Verging Towards Civil War in Manitoba—An Ex-M. P. Favors Annexation.

Rumor that Minister West is to be Recalled—The Parnell Investigation.

Winnipeg, Oct. 26—The excitement over the trouble between the Manitoba Government and the C. P. R. continues unabated. A serious conflict between the special police on both sides was only prevented yesterday by the action of the provincial courts in granting the Canadian Pacific another injunction against the government. The people are loyal to the provincial courts but against the Dominion. The feeling is decidedly hostile. The Canadian Pacific was outwitted by the government last night when the latter effected a crossing over another branch of the transcontinental line, which had to be crossed in order to reach Portage La Prairie. The Canadian Pacific people, however, 400 strong, succeeded in tearing up the track. To-day the latest injunction case will be settled. R. Whyte, representing the C. P. R. here, says he can raise more men than Manitoba, and that 5000 armed followers of the C. P. can be massed here in a few hours.

FIRE IN COLUSA.

Colusa, Cala., Oct. 26—A fire late last night destroyed a number of business houses. Total loss, $25,000.

WEST'S INDISCRETION.

New York, Oct. 26—The Washington correspondent of the Herald telegraphes this morning that it is understood that Lord Sackville West, British Minister, will be recalled because of his letter on American politics.

MACKENZIE'S BOOK.

Berlin, Oct. 26—The decree forbidding the sale of Dr. Mackinzie's book in Germany has been rescinded.

GETS TWENTY-ONE YEARS.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 26.—James Talmage, son of the late general manager of Wabash Railway, was found guilty at Keytesville, Mo., last night of murder in the second degree for killing C. P. Lidd, telegraph operator last January, during a quarrel over orders for the train of which Talmage was conductor. He was sentenced to twenty-one years in the penitentiary.

WHO IS S. SMITH?

Ottawa, Oct. 26—S. Smith, ex-member of the Dominion Parliament, in a speech last night came out squarely for annexation as Canada's only salvation. "As regards terms," he said, "The American people should take us just as we are; allow us to retain our local government, local codes, courts and school systems, and all the privileges of local government we now enjoy."

RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

Evanston, Wyo., Oct. 26—Early this morning, about a mile and a half from here, a west-bound train on the Union Pacific was ditched by running into a band of steers. Extra fireman Kelly was killed and engineer Hawkins had his right leg broken.

A SCIENTIFIC EXPEDITION WRECKED.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 26—Professor James, secretary of the Philosophical Department of the University of Pennsylvania, received news last night that the Bobylonian expedition of the University which left this city for the Orient early last summer had been shipwrecked in the Mediterranean sea. The expedition was to reach Palestine about the beginning of October, proceeding thence to the site of Babylon and Nineveh, in order to begin archaelogic excavation. The members of the expedition are outcasts on an island in the Mediterranean sea, with most of their baggage and scientific apparatus lost, or seriously damaged. There is little prospect of their being conveyed to the point of their destination.

DIVORCE REFORM.

Boston, Oct. 22—In a letter to Rev. Dr. Samuel W. Dike, secretary of the National Divorce Reform League, William E. Gladstone says: "My attention had for some time been drawn to the condition, both of law and practice, touching divorce in some of the states of the Union, and the facts have caused me some alarm as to the future of your great country. I contemplate with interest your great movement which may bring the object nearer to the Christian standard, even without attaining it, gradual progress being the only change possible. Personally, I hold by the law of the whole Christian church, which teaches marriage to be indissoluble and regards severance, a mensa et thoro, as inexpedient and to be allowed only in cases where the gravest difficulty may have arisen within the married state."

Dr. Dike has been associated with Col. Carroll D. Wright, so as to best gather statistics regarding divorce, which the government has authorized, by special acts, to gather. They will be ready for publication in January, and will refer to 2700 courts in the states and territories which have jurisdiction of divorces. The compilation will be very exhaustive, and will add much to the cause of divorce reform, showing where the weak places of our laws are, and where the remedy must be applied.

A SENSATION.

San Francisco, Oct. 26—Dr. J. M. Bowers, who is under sentence of death for poisoning his wife, made a sensational accusation in an interview to-day. He charges Mrs. Benhayen with the murder of her son Henry, whose mysterious death a year ago created such excitement throughout the coast.

A sensation was created at the health office this afternoon, when a report reached there that six cases of smallpox had been discovered in the city and county hospitals.

FROM HONGKONG.

The steamer Arabic arrived from Hongkong at 1 o'clock this afternoon. She came by way of Honolulu, where most of her Chinese passengers were dropped off. The Arabic was the last steamer which left Hongkong before the exclusion act went into effect.

PARNELL COMMISSION.

London, Oct. 26—Attorney-General Webster continued his address before the Parnell committee to-day. In opening his remarks he intimated that it was his intention to deal at length with violent orations delivered by members of the National League in County Clare during the years 1885, 1886 and 1887. At this point Hannen, presiding judge asked Webster if he did not think he had already sufficiently indicated the line of argument he intended to adopt. Webster replied he must deal with all counties picked up as affording the most positive character of league agitation. He, however, quite understood Hannen's hint and was desirous of adopting any precaution suggested which might assist him in shortening his remarks. Mr. Webster finished his address on behalf of the Times. In concluding his remarks he asserted the witnesses he proposed to call in support of his case would be persons who have been active participators in outrages. They would tell what money had been paid them for their share of work and how the crimes were arranged. Adjourned till Tuesday.

VERDICT FOR $30,000.

Boston, Oct. 26—Myra Beal received the verdict this morning against Dr. A. Thompson, of Lowell, for $30,000 for alienating her husband's affections. Probably no appeal will be taken. Thompson is proprietor of Moxie Nerve Food.

FLOOD IMPROVING.

Heidelburg, Oct. 26.—The condition of Jas. C. Flood, of California, is somewhat improved.

NATALIE'S DIVORCE.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 26—Papers here express indignation at the manner in which King Milan of Servia secured his divorce from Queen Natalie, and denounce the divorce as illegal. The Svet urges Queen Natalie to appeal to the Patriarch of Constantinople and other chiefs of the orthodox church to annul the action of the Metropolitan Theodosius.

H W Ternan, veterinary surgeon of Chilliwhack, is in the city and is stopping at the Oriental.

ALL FOR LOVE.

Colfax, W. T., Oct. 26—David Yates, barkeeper, shot and killed his wife and then himself this morning. Yates left a letter stating his great love for his wife, and that her failure to return it had driven him to desperation.

PRESIDENT IN NEW YORK.

Washington, Oct. 26—The President went to New York on the 4 o'clock train this afternoon to review the business parade there to-morrow. Colonel Lamont accompanies him and he will be met there by Senators Whitney, Dickenson and Fairchild and Assistant Secretary Maynard.

UNCHRISTIAN STATESMEN.

Address by Mr. S. H. Blake to Sabbath Workers.

At a convention of Sabbath school workers, held at Kingston, Ont., last week, Mr. S. H. Blake spoke as follows:

I am old-fashioned enough to believe that the Lord reigneth, and believe that there is such a thing as a Christian politician, although the world may sneer at it. I just give you one other thing in which I wish that we would arise and shine, and it is this: The nation to the south of us desired that we should enter into a treaty with them, and we did, and there was an award made, and the award was in our favor as they thought, and they did not like it, and they have disregarded it, and they say that they will retaliate upon us and we say we will retaliate back. I wish we could let the light shine upon that. I wish we could say, whereas you asked us to enter into a treaty, and whereas we did, and it has been made, and whereas you did not keep it, and whereas you have threatened to retaliate, in this land we consider it to be beneath the dignity of a great Christian nation to retaliate. You may do it. We do no such thing. (Applause). "Vengeance is mine, I will repay, saith the Lord." I know not the means whereby he will protect the people that stand upon His strength and stand to the right and say, We know nothing of retaliation, but I know he will do it. I know not by what sweep of that hand of power He would cause the retaliation to rebound and be felt by the nation that would exercise it against another; but I know that by some means that would be accomplished, and that the shield of his protecting power would prevent any injury happening to us. Let the light shine in upon these matters, whether they be great or whether they be small. Let us use our influence as those that are bound to shine, with a bright light from above, and not with the dark sulphurous light that comes from below. The one gives us retaliation, and the other gives us a forgiving spirit and our confiding in the goodness of our God.

To emphasize Mr. Blake's views on retaliation, Rev. Mr. Almsley, of Ogdensburg, N. Y., representative of the New York State Association, said:

Although the Governments have little differences and our politicians especially magnify them and make them more difficult than they might be, I hardly think that our officials at Washington represent the real sentiment of the people. (Hear, hear.) If I may judge from the criticisms that I have seen in the leading independent Christian journals, as well as many other political papers, I find that the action that has been taken there has been looked upon with general disfavor. (Hear, hear.) And as was well said last night, if there is some little difference arising in the fisheries matter, the thing to do was to resort to simple Christian arbitration, and the idea of saying that some little wrong has been done to us, or if we fancy a wrong has been done to us, we will hit back—why that is the way uncivilized savages settle difficulties, and it is because we have not enough of Sabbath school sentiments and Sabbath school teachings among our statesmen or among our politicians that we have any such debates or unpleasantness. (Applause.)

Vintner's Society.

The licensed victuallers of this city met at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the old Board of Trade rooms, corner of Langley and Yates streets. The following officers were elected: George Fairbrother, President; Joseph Lowen, Vice-President; C N Gowen, Secretary; Frank Sehl, Treasurer; Directors: W McNiffe, W Jensen, S Clay, W. Harrison and W. Croft. It is the intention to incorporate the Society. About 50 members were present.

Converting Prisoners.

A season of religious awakening similar to that which recently prevailed at the Mercier Reformatory, has begun at the Central Prison. Over 300 prisoners asked Warden Massey the other day to sanction a convict prayer meeting, and he consented to allow them to hold one every Tuesday evening.

OUR MORMON COMMUNITY.

An item in our local columns states that our old friend, Mr. STENHOUSE, has been elevated to the Aaronic Priesthood, in the new mormon settlement in the Northwest, with which he allied himself about a year ago. Private letters from Mr. STENHOUSE describe the community of "saints," of which he is now a prominent member, as being as nearly perfect as it is given to mortals to be. They are, he says, law-abiding, industrious, social, kind-hearted and withal strictly monogamous, desiring only to live quiet and useful lives and obey the laws of the country. We hope the good opinion formed of the Latter Day Saints by the ex member for Comox will be fully verified after he has had ample experience of the civil and religious relations of that peculiar people. But it is not impossible that, notwithstanding their fair promises at present, they may become a source of trouble to the Dominion government, by introducing their polygamous practices and refusing to assimilate with the people of other religious creeds. Communities within a community are not of themselves desirable. They are not of necessity conducive to the welfare of the whole country, or to the nationalization of the people, as the sectional barriers which they raise up are so many obstacles in the way of that homogenity by which alone a great nation can be built up on this continent. The Mennonite communities are not an unmixed good, valuable though they no doubt are; and the imperium in imperio which dominates the Dominion in the province of Quebec will ever be a permanent menace to the stability and cohesiveness of confederation. The policy of government ought to be to discourage the settlement of any class or creed that will build a Chinese wall around its habitations, or whose religion or national characteristics interpose obstacles to a fusion with those of other beliefs, or a mixing with those of other races.

The Mormons' reign in Utah is now practically at an end, and the leaders are looking to the north and the south for new homes. The enforcement of the law against polygamy is the principal cause; but the blow dealt by the Supreme Court of Utah, which pronounces the dissolution of the church and confiscates all its property for school purposes, is the one from which it staggers most. By this judicial decision, the church loses all its buildings, excepting its churches, and is deprived of its right to maintain military and police systems. It is put upon the same basis as other denominations, and as a "State Church" it no longer exists. Its hold upon the people of Utah has thus been effectually loosened by the courts and as a peculiarly "American institution" it will now rapidly dissolve and pass away. The eyes of the faithful are turning to Mexico, where for several decades to come a lax administration of the general laws might give the church an opportunity to become once more a power in the land. Certainly we do not want a religio-politico Mormon party dominating any section of this Canada of ours; although as citizens they will be permitted to believe and to practice their doctrines subject to our laws without molestation or annoyance.

NON-INTERCOURSE.

The statement in the Toronto Empire to the effect that "President "CLEVELAND intends to declare non-"intercourse with Canada on the eve "of the Presidential election," is doubtless mere buncome. It is evidently another of those Yankee bugaboos, which that not overscrupulous paper occasionally gets up to suit the purposes of its party. To be more charitable, the prospective bomb-shell which was to shatter the trade of Canada may have been actually constructed in its imagination. The article in question was published on the 19th inst, and Congress adjourned on the 20th, which of course shattered the Empire's plans completely. Like the prophet, Wiggins, it was very easy for it to predict a storm but it will not be so easy to produce the wind and the rain and the thunder and chain-lightning when it wants it. A commercial storm cannot always be produced on time, any more than a great disturbance of the elements. The chances are that the last has been heard of retaliation and non-intercourse for the present. The president can only exercise such powers as have been vested in him by Congress and the Senate, and as they have not passed a non-intercourse bill, with the exception of the old one which requires two years notice of the proposal to enforce it, nothing can be done about the matter. It was, by the way, never intended that anything should be done unless it became necessary to win the election, which by the way has not increased the respect of this country for some of their methods at Washington.

A GOOD APPOINTMENT.

It is understood that Mr. J. R. Scott, who has been connected with the public schools of this province for the last three or four years, and up till recently teacher at Lytton has been appointed principal of the Industrial school for Indians at Metlakahtla. This is one of the four schools of the kind which are being established in this province by the Dominion government and which are to be located at, Kootenay, Kamloops Metlakahtla and Kuper Island. The last named is situated in the Gulf of Georgia opposite to Chemainus. The one at Metlakahtla is to be the first put into operation, on account of the buildings being erected, and ready for occupation, with the exception of some slight repairs which are being made under the direction of the Indian Agent. The buildings at the other place will probably not be erected till next year, on account of the lateness of the season. The school will be under the direction of the Indian Department. In Mr. Scott an admirable selection has been made for the work. He is understood to have been superintendent of industrial schools for many years in Victoria, Aus., and therefore understands the work thoroughly. Mr. Scott is also a gentleman of excellent qualities and is popular with all who know him.

ORIGIN OF THE ADVENTISTS.

A world's conference of a peculiar sect of whom probably the general public know comparatively little is now being held in St. Paul. The Seventh Day Adventists sprung into existence in 1843 and 1844 when William Miller startled the country with the positive prediction that the world was to come to an end in 1844. He soon gathered about him a band of followers and so thoroughly did they believe in him that they sold all their possessions, gave the money to the poor, and prepared their shining white robes in which they expected to ascend to heaven when the final moment came. The Millerites, as they were called, on several occasions stayed up all night on the house tops with ears attuned to hear the last trumpet of the Angel Gabriel. But 1844 past and the world went on. The Millerites were rudely shaken, and some of them returned to their former religious professions. But a part studied diligently and found out what they thought to be Miller's mistake. The year 1844 marked not the end of the world, but the beginning of an indefinite "period of probation," at the end of which the saints, viz., the Adventists, were to wing their way to heaven and the wicked were to die and be destroyed utterly. This portion of the Millerite sect founded the Adventist church. Early in its history, however, a dispute arose as to which was the true Sabbath, Saturday or Sunday. On this rock the Adventists split into the Second Advent church and the Seventh Day Adventists. The latter observe with Puritan rigor a Sabbath commencing at sundown on Friday night and ending at sundown Saturday night. The Seventh Day Adventists grew and prospered. They have a headquarters at Battle Creek, Mich., and missionaries have been sent all over the world. They have many religious and educational enterprises and lots of money to keep them going. Michigan has the most Seven Day Adventists within its border, and Minnesota comes second. Minneapolis is now the sect's headquarters in the Northwest, and the annual world's conference is this year being held there. It is an Adventist tenet that every nation will have a chance to "see the light" and accept the truth before destruction and oblivion comes and the world is snuffed out of existence. And they are active in disseminating knowledge according to their belief.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

In the Ottawa county election case on Friday it came out in evidence that thirty unqualified voters were supplied with tickets at the door of the polling booth in Egan township, the Liberal stronghold. All entered and voted for Rochon, the Liberal candidate. They were unworthy of the name of Liberals.

Either our evening contemporary is unduly anxious to cast odium on Mayor Grant or its reporters are exceedingly fresh and unacquainted with their business. Their comments in the regular report of the case are not only out of place and is contempt of court, but they are also untrue, and therefore unjust and prejudicial. It is fortunate that a very limited circulation curbs our contemporary's desire to do injury.

SAILED FOR INDIA.

A Remarkable Scene in Montreal—Hindoo Salvationists.

One of the largest, if not the largest, assemblage ever gathered beneath the roof of the Salvation Army barracks in Montreal greeted the return of the Hindoo band and their colleagues to Montreal last week. The sable worshippers, accompanied by the Montreal Salvation corps, headed by Commissioner Coombs, had just completed one of the most successful crusades ever attempted by a band of Salvationists. The mission of the Hindoos was to induce workers in the cause of salvation to go to India, where, it is said, two hundred and fifty millions of heathen are thirsting for the religion of Jesus Christ, to preach the word of God in their own peculiar way. Upon the arrival of the Hindoos it was stated that twenty self-sacrificing individuals were required to return with them, and that the sum of three thousand dollars was needed to provide for the necessary expenses. To obtain both the money and volunteers a tour of the province was made, lasting something over a month, during which time eight hundred and one meetings were held, every one of which has been highly successful, especially from a financial point of view, for it is stated that not only the desired number of volunteers were selected from over three hundred applicants, but nearly the full amount of three thousand dollars has been raised, and that at one meeting in Toronto alone $700 were contributed through the collection process. Having obtained what they claim is necessary, they are now upon their homeward trip, taking with them twenty young men, and an equal number of enthusiastic young women. Upon their return to the city, the Hindoo Salvationists and their colleagues were accompanied by General Booth's "Household Brass Band of England," and the music they rendered as the barracks showed the players to be skilled with their instruments. The meeting began with the usual preliminaries of prayers and songs, after which Commissioner Coombs made a few introductory remarks bearing upon the important work they had just finished, and the much more important task yet to be accomplished in the heathen country. All of the volunteers wore the regulation Hindoo costume. Some of the men go bare-footed, as all, both men and women, will have to do when they get to India.

To accustom the army to manners of the people among whom they are going to work, the feet washing and Hindoo variety of eating were explained by the native members of the company. While a tub, pitcher, towel, basket of cabbage leaves, rice and curry were being brought in, the Household Troops band rendered a selection. Major Musa Bhai explained the ceremonies. He proved to be not only an eloquent, but a graceful Hindu. The Commissioner made a playful allusion to Montreal's mud and the necessity for frequent feet washing here. Musa Bhai drew his robe about his ankles, tucked it between his knees, and stepped into the tub of water. Standing in the tub he explained that the Hindus considered the European methods of eating very dirty. The natives regards the washing of the feet and hands a necessary preliminary to a meal. They shudder at the thought of using a knife and fork which have cut up and conveyed food to the mouths of others. Having stepped into a vessel of water they rub one foot against the other; having dried them, the hands are cleansed by pouring water alternately over each hand. The feet washing was exhibited only by Musa Bhai, but all the volunteers tried the hand washing.

Musa Bhai said that the Hindus were very extravagant with their cookery—they always broke a plate and threw away the pieces after being. This would be very expensive were the plates pottery instead of banana leaves. The modus operandi is to hold the leaf containing the food in the left hand, and after mixing the curry and rice up well with the fingers of the right, to eat it with that hand, afterwards rinsing the hands and mouth with water. Small cabbage leaves answered the purpose of plates, and the Hindu contingent and the Commissioner and staff were handed a portion of the Oriental viands. A Cingalese grace having been sung, the band played and the eating commenced. The Orientals soon disposed of their curry and rice, but wry faces testified that to the Canadians the mixture was not tempting. Major Bhai and Lieut. Methabaram next showed how the Hindus drink. According to traditional teaching it is pollution for the lips to touch the drinking vessel, and so they drink by opening wide the mouth and pouring a stream of water down the throat. This exhibition was awe inspiring, especially when it became known that the volunteer brigade would have to acquire the method or offend native sensibilities. After these lessons had been imparted, the little army marched in a body to the ocean steamer, which they boarded, en route to India via England.

Union Pacific Railway.

The directors of the Union Pacific Railway held a meeting in Boston on Wednesday last. W. H. Halcomb, of Portland, Oregon, was chosen director, vice Colgate Hoyt, resigned. No appointment of general manager of the O. R. & N. Co. would be made at present; the president said the duties of that office would be performed by Director Halcomb until other arrangements were made. Halcomb is at present general manager of the O. R. & N. Co. The result of the financial operation of the whole Union Pacific system for the 12 months ended June 30, 1888, is: Gross earnings of the entire system $29,029,453; surplus earnings, $11,159,836; total income, $12,957,482; surplus earnings, $111,592,836; total income: $12,259,482; total expenditures, $7,508,103; surplus less United States requirements (approximated) $3,535,579.

—"When you throw away ten pounds of apple peelings," said a chemist, "you throw away a pound of sugar." And when you throw away a pound of sugar, how much sand do you throw away? Answers from the trade solicited.

—A short road to health was opened to those suffering from chronic coughs, asthma, bronchitis, catarrh, lumbago, tumors, rheumatism, excoriated nipples or inflamed breast and kidney complaints, by the introduction of the inexpensive and effective remedy, Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. *

—A telegram from Toronto to the effect that the Bank of British North America had decided, owing to the numerous forged five-dollar bills, to withdraw its fives from circulation and put out a new issue is incorrect.

—H.P. MacCarthy, wholesale and retail druggist, Ottawa, writes:—"I was afflicted with Chronic Bronchitis for some years, but have been completely cured by the use of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil in doses of five drops on sugar. I have also a pleasure in recommending it as an embrocation for external use. *

—He—I must break off my engagement, Violet. She—Why should you do that? He—Well, your father has failed; how can he support a son-in-law in the style in which I have lived? She—Why, you goose, he failed on purpose to meet the extra expenses.

—The public should bear in mind that Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil has nothing in common with the impure, deteriorating class of so-called medicinal oils. It is eminently pure and really efficacious—relieving pain and lameness, stiffness of the joints and muscles, or sores or hurts, besides being an excellent specific for rheumatism, coughs and bronchial complaints. *

—A German officer, who was charged with the duty of keeping watch over Napoleon III, his minister of War, Lebœuf, and Generals Canrobert and Bazaine in their captivity in Germany, relates that when the beautiful creole wife of Bazaine was about to present him with a child in Cassel, where the General was detained, he ordered a quantity of earth to be brought from France, so that the infant might be born on French soil.

—Most excruciating are the twinges which rack the muscles and joints of the rheumatic. Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, by promoting increased action of the kidneys, by which the blood is more effectually depurated, receives through the natural channels certain acrid elements in the circulation which produce rheumatism and gout. The medicine is also a fine laxative anti-bilious medicine and general corrective. *

—Mr. Isaacstein: I sell you dot coat, my frent, for sayventeen tollar; you take hum along? Customer: I thought, Isaacstein, that you didn't do business on Saturday. Isn't this your Sunday? Mr. Isaacstein (in a low, reverent tone of voice): My frent, to sell a coat like dot for sayventeen tollars vas not peesness; dot vas charity.

—Mrs. A. Nelson, Brantford, writes: "I was a sufferer from Chronic Dyspepsia for eleven years. Always after eating an intense burning sensation in the stomach, at times very distressing, caused a drooping and languid feeling, which would last for several hours after eating. I was recommended by Mr. Popplewell, chemist, our city, to try Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, and I am thankful to say that I have not been better for years; that burning sensation and languid feeling has all gone, and food does not lie heavy on my stomach. Others of my family have used it with best results." *

—Mr. James Payn, the editor of Cornhill, confirms the experience of every editor that many persons are curiously deficient in a sense of fun. In the Cornhill lately, there was an article entitled "Who wrote Dickens novels?" in which, by way of a skit on Mr. Donnelly's Bacon theory, they are attributed to Mr. Gladstone. It is hardly credible, but numbers of persons have written to inquire "What foundation exists for this statement?" It is only by chances of this kind that the depths of human credulity can be plumbed. When London was first divided into postal districts, an example was given of how letters should in future be addressed, to "John Smith, Strand, W. C." whereupon, as the post-office report informs us, hundreds of people directed their private correspondence to that imaginary gentleman!

An Explanation.

What is this "nervous trouble" with which so many seem now to be afflicted? If you will remember a few years ago the word Malaria was comparatively unknown—to-day it is as common as any word in the English language, yet this word covers only the meaning of another word used by our forefathers in times past. So it is with nervous diseases, as they and Malaria are intended to cover what our grandfathers called Biliousness, and all are caused by troubles that arise from a diseased condition of the Liver which in performing its functions finding it cannot dispose of the bile through the ordinary channel is compelled to pass it off through the system, causing nervous troubles, Malaria, Bilious Fever, etc. You who are suffering can well appreciate a cure. We recommend Green's August Flower. Its cures are marvelous. *

A Success.

The French Hotel, under the management of the well known epicure, Mr. Escalet, is meeting with excellent success. All speak in glowing terms of the cuisine. The place to get the best dinner in town. Meals at all hours during the day. *

Ronisch Pianos.

We have a consignment of these renowned great pianos on the way of new designs and request intending buyers to wait and examine them before buying. Ronisch pianos have now been ten years in use in B. C. and give universal satisfaction. C. A. LOMBARD. *

Steamer Mexico sailed from San Francisco for this port at noon to-day.

Obituary.

We regret to learn of the death of Mrs. Henry G. Walker, which took place at 11 o'clock last night. The deceased lady has been an invalid for a long time, and her early demise was not unexpected by her husband and friends. The deceased was an estimable lady, beloved by all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance. Her bereaved husband has the sympathy of the community.

Incoming Passengers.

The following passengers are on board the Mexico for Victoria: G Vary, Miss L M Manners, Mr Dunvell, Mrs A Weeks and child, Miss J Murray and Mary McLeod.

Prince of Wales.

Preparations should be made for the proper observance of the Prince of Wales' birthday. The future king of England will celebrate his forty-seventh birthday on Friday the 9th of November.

Football Matches.

A practice game of football be played at Beacon Hill to-morrow afternoon commencing at 3 o'clock. A match will be played with a Vancouver team to-morrow week, and with Nanaimo on Thanksgiving Day, the 15th inst. Vancouver and New Westminster struggle for the supremacy to-morrow.

Aaronic Priesthood.

Two of the Twelve Apostles of the Mormon Church, F. M. Lyman and John W. Taylor, are now in the Canadian Northwest. They have completed the organization of the Church there and have conferred the Aaronic Priesthood on Mr. A. M. Stenhouse, the late member for Comox.

Winter Time Table.

The new time card of the Northern Pacific will go into effect about the 4th of November. Trains from St. Paul and the east will get into Tacoma about 7 o'clock in the morning instead of in the evening. The time between St. Paul and Tacoma during the winter months will be lengthened about twelve hours.

The Chinese Head Tax.

A correspondent of the News-Advertiser inquires whether the Vancouver customs officials are acting in compliance with law, or whether they are, for the sake of collecting the fifty dollars per capita entrance fee, neglecting their duty to the public of Canada and British Columbia in particular. What does it mean?

Ready for Winter.

It is thought now that every spot on the C. P. R where a snow slide is likely to occur has been protected. The bridges have all been placed in first class order and there is but little probability that the severest storms will cause any blockade or even a retardation of the train service during the coming winter and spring. The line is admitted to be the best managed of all the transcontinental roads.

The Crofters.

Charles Innes, of Inverness, Scotland, has arrived at Ottawa from this coast. He will write his impressions of the Dominion for the Scotsman. He thinks Canada a grand field for immigration. He visited the Crofter settlements and does not favor the immigration of Scotch fishermen in numbers to British Columbia in the present condition of the fishing industry.

Wedded.

Says the Moncton, N. B, Transcript of the 15th inst:—Mr. Thos. Mowat, fishery inspector for British Columbia, and whose headquarters are in New Westminster, was in town to-day, and left on this afternoon's express for Petitcodiac, where he will be married tomorrow morning to Miss Herrett, daughter of the late Squire Herrett. They leave to morrow for British Columbia.

Alberta & Athabasca.

The Alberta & Athabasca Railway Company will apply to Parliament at its next session for an amendment to their charter, giving them power to extend and construct a line of railway from its southern terminal point on the Bow river or C. P. R. southerly to the International boundary, and also from its northern terminus on the Athabasca river northwesterly to the Peace river.

Woman Missionaries.

The seventh annual meeting of the general Board of the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church was held in Toronto on the 16th inst. Among the reports read was the following from the western branch, Mrs. Cunningham President: Twenty-five new auxiliaries were formed, making a total of 68 auxiliaries and 21 mission bands, with adult membership of 1,717 and mission band membership of 581. Receipts, $5,939.35.

Death of an Heroic Woman.

Mrs. Van Luren, the woman who had been nursing the smallpox patients in New Westminster district, died on Monday evening last. This heroic woman left her own family of young children to nurse her neighbors, the Walworths, when it was announced that smallpox had broken out among them. Night and day, almost incessantly, she labored cheerfully with them for weeks, but at last the constant strain began to tell on her weak system and she finally succumbed to the dread disease in its most malignant form. The deceased was 34 years of age and leaves a husband and several young children to mourn her loss.

Maubury-Boyd Company.

His Natural Life will be presented at the Victoria Theatre this evening by the Maubury-Boyd Dramatic Company. Nellie Boyd has appeared in this city on two occasions with first-class troupes and is always welcomed as an actress of sterling ability. Mr. Maubury is highly spoken of by the American press. The scenery, which will be brought with the company, is magnificent and the drama will be produced in a manner which will not fail to receive the praise which has followed the troupe in their tour through the large cities of the Eastern States. Seats can be secured at Waitt & Co.'s book store.

Presbyterian Choir Concert.

The above choir, although considerably retarded in their practice by the revival meetings, have been doing hard work this last week and the glees and choruses to be rendered by them on Monday evening are sure to be a treat. The solos are all of a high order and are in the hands of the best musical talent to be had in Victoria. Prof. Strauss will give a piano solo, "The Flying Dutchman" by Wagner-Liszt, one of the best pieces ever written. Prof. Sharpe has not intimated his selection, but we are safe in saying it will be a splendid performance. Tickets can be had from members of the choir or from any of the music stores and principal booksellers and stationers in town. Parties desirous of attending should purchase tickets before the concert in order to avoid crowding at the door. Doors open at 7:30; concert at 8 p. m. promptly. Mr. Brown believes in commencing sharp on advertised time and in order to hear the whole programme the audience should come early.

OUR TOWN MAJOR.

Things in General—Police Court and Other Abominations.

Have we in this fair city such a thing as a "Board of Health," or a Sanitary Inspector? If so, then how comes it that the city reporter of THE TIMES has to unearth those dens of wretchedness and uncleanliness in Chinatown? Here, you men, be stirring, else there'll be such a storm raised about your ears that a northwest blizzard will be nothing to it. If we are to have leprosy and other vileness in our midst, permitted and encouraged by those whose duty it is to suppress the same, let us know it, and let the world know that your beautiful Victoria is nothing but a whitened sepulchre.

What has the fawning Colonist to say now? He'd sooner be champion of "the weak" than the strong and mighty. He's the man who condemns "combines" in sugar because it affects a certain class, but he has failed to say a word for the poor man who has to pay $10 a ton for his coal. He's a nice representative of the oppressed. You've combined "agin" the government, raised the C. Battery removal cry, and other litle dodges. These mosquito bites had little effect on John A., as appears by the following telegram received by the Major:

Ottawa, 24th Oct., 1888.

TOWN MAJOR, VICTORIA:—You're right. Battery cry hoax of Colonist. The fellow has been ligging at us lately, cause we'd not countenance Menzies affair. Not if we know it. Go for him all you can. "I'll none of him," neither will Bowell. They're a nice lot of weathercocks in Victoria. Suppose they'll give Blake a reception; they would if he was in power, I know them well. Keep an eye on them. What do the spirits say? Hear Colonist fellows had seance. JOHN A.

There you see it's hand and glove we are. The Major is in the cabinet secrets at Ottawa, at least as to what they think of the Colonist outfit. We'll all live till we die.

What does the Tiser man of Vancouver mean when he says: The citizens of Victoria are to be treated to a change in the line of drama. Charles Maubray and Nellie Boyd, * * * will appear in Hart's Opera House, etc." The fellow's head must be wool gathering and his visits to the Cosmopolitan or the Dougall House have been more frequent of late.

"The ways of the wicked are dark" and the ways of the wicked are perverting, even the "echo" up stairs on Langley street, at a loss for the sensational and the want of local "items," has turned to perverting. Mr. Moody's lecture, it would appear, has not had much effect on those perverters of the press. Mayor Grant was "excited," we are told, when reading in court "Taxpayer's" letter in the Colonist of Oct 3rd. The Major, and every one else of unbiased mind, are of the opinion that the Mayor read the letter with effect, and that the only "excited" persons were of the Colonist office, who were bumping round with their tails between their legs. They were "excited" of course at the turn affairs are taking. The statement also that Mayor Grant said he "thought Mr. Davie wrote the letter" "Taxpayer." Go to the enquiry room, young man! You may be reformed and receive salvation before Mr. Moody leave. You want it very much; take the other fellow with you. The vilest sinner may return and be saved.

The "presence" yesterday was enlivened by the lawyers' arguments in an endeavor to prolong. It was hoped that one who has been brought under the influence of Mr. Moody had become—well, we won't say anything, but what will the harvest be? King Coal, supported by great Walls and chirriped at by "Ex-Councillor," appeared to enjoy the fun of the "Polels Kourt." The marble countenance relaxed when "Ex-Councillor" drew His Majesty's attention to the presence of THE TOWN MAJOR.

CRIMINAL LIBEL.

Conclusion of Evidence Taken Yesterday Afternoon.

The following is the remainder of the evidence taken on Thursday afternoon:

Mr. Mills said the articles put in were brought forward to prove malice.

Mr. Grant, cross-examined by Mr. Davie—I produce the Colonist of Sept. 27th, containing a report of a meeting of the city council which is unfair and untrue.

Mr. Davie—Read the article and comment on it as you read; you will then show where it is unfair and untrue.

Mr. Mills—I object to that question. The counsel cannot put a question to prove the truth of other libels.

Mr. Davie—The lines the prosecution have adopted opens the door to anything defendants said at any time regarding the plaintiff to prove malice.

Mr. Mills—The information shows that there was malice. If Your Honor is satisfied that there was malice shown in the article referred to you can exclude cross-examination.

His Honor—If you put in the newspaper containing the article and prove publication that will be evidence enough to commit defendants.

His Honor read His Worship's evidence.

Cross examination of Mayor Grant continued—I have marked the places in pencil showing unfair reports of what I said in the City Council; I find four places where unfair reports are and one place where the report is untrue. In one place I am made to say that I know more than any auditor about figures. The language used was that I knew as much about figures as any of the auditors.

Mr. Davie—On that occasion did you object to the reception of the report?

The Mayor—I will not answer that question unless instructed to do so by my counsel.

Mr. Mills objected to the question.

His Honor decided that the question might be answered.

The Mayor—The Colonist contains a fair report of what I said concerning the reception of the Auditor's report.

Mr. Davie—Were you acquainted with the data of the shortages?

Mr. Mills objected to the question. Counsel on both sides argued on the question whether the question was admissable at the investigation.

His Honor said he wished to look at authorities on the question. It was unnecessary to go into the examination further than to place the newspaper in the hands of the court and prove publication.

After agument on both sides the court adjourned until 11 o'clock on Tuesday morning.

P. Gilligan Dead.

Another pioneer passed away this morning at St. Joseph's Hospital. The deceased, Patrick Gilligan, resided for many years on Pandora street and was proprietor for some time of the Mountaineer Saloon at the corner of Store and Cormorant streets. He was employed by the Corporation for some time, and of late years took contracts for city work. Deceased was a hard working man and raised a family which now mourns the loss of their mother and father. The sympathy of the community is extended to them in their bereavement. Deceased was a native of Ireland and was 55 years old. The funeral will take place at nine o'clock to-morrow morning from his late residence, Kane street.

FORESTERS BANQUET.

A Pleasant Evening at the Clarence Hotel.

Court Northern Light No. 5935, A. O. F., held their regular quarterly banquet last night at the Clarence hotel. Bro. B. Williams presided, supported by the district officers and visiting brethren. The spread, furnished by the new proprietor, Mr. Anderson, was a most enjoyable one and comprised every dainty that could be procured. The usual loyal toasts were made and responded to and a most agreeable evening was spent by the fifty members who took part in the entertainment. Mr. Archie F. Ried catered to the wants of the large assemblage in a commendable manner. The following toasts were given: The Queen; President of the United States; Success to Court Northern Light; Sister Courts and Visiting Brethren; Columbia District A. O. F.; Mine Host and Steward; Our Secretary, Bro H L Salmon. Songs were given by Bros. W F Fullerton, H Warburton, C Bush, L G Burns, H Short, J Trace, C McArthur, H L Salmon, W F Gold, A F Ried, W Trickey, W Ahern, E J Salmon, F McF Graham and E Bragg. Brothers H Smith and Benj Williams made good speeches. The happy party broke up shortly before midnight.

PALATIAL SHOP.

The New Barber Shop of W. Whittaker, Government Street.

The new barber establishment of our enterprising citizen, Mr. Whittaker, Government street, will be opened to the public on Monday next. As this concern is the best fitted and most commodious barber shop west of Toronto, a short description of it will be found interesting. A TIMES reporter called upon Mr. Whittaker this afternoon, and that gentleman did the honors of the establishment. On the outside the attention of the passer-by is attracted by an overhanging shield, bearing the legend "Shaving 15 c., Hair Cutting 25 c," done in black and gold. This will, at night, be illuminated by a number of electric lights which surrounds the shield. Two large barber poles are a departure from all the ancient rules handed down to us by tradition; instead of the universal red and white, we find a clothing of black and gold, which although very rich looking, leans a little towards the somber. Entering the shop we find ourselves confronted by a display of fittings in mirrors, hat stands, chairs, &c., all of which were manufactured by the well known firm of John Weiler, which are perfect triumphs of the cabinet maker's art and a credit to this important branch of our city manufactures. The mirrors occupy the whole length of the shop, are fitted up with drawers, closets, etc. A marble top shelve runs along the whole length, and in workmanship, design and finish can compare with any other of the kind elsewhere. The wood work is of black walnut, highly polished, and best French plate glass mirrors. The hat stand is of the same material, with silver-plated fittings. It is in itself a thing of decorative art, and forms one of the chief attractions of this magnificent establishment. The floor is of alternate black walnut and white oak, highly polished, and adds much to the rich appearance of the place. There are two well arranged bath rooms on the ground floor and two on the upper, where the customers can have hot, cold, or shower baths at their desire. The supply of hot and cold water is arranged by an ingenious contrivance. The cold water is received from the city main in a large tank on the upper floor; the water passes down a pipe which passes through a stove on the ground floor, and upwards again by pressure heated to another tank, from which it is drawn off as required. The action is automatic, and there is every precaution taken against overflow or leakage. On the whole Mr. Whittaker is to be congratulated on being the proprietor of an establishment which is a credit to his enterprise and the city of Victoria.

Rochester's Comedy Company.

This excellent company of comedians numbering twelve ladies and gentlemen, direct from the Bush Street Theatre, San Francisco, where they have just closed a most successful engagement, will open here at the Victoria on Monday in "Senior and Junior" and "Fun on the Bristol," the two funniest musical absurdities ever written. The latter has been done here before, but the management assure us that it has had so many new music specialties, and funny situations added that one would hardly know the play, while the "Widow O'Brien" of Harry Conner is said by the press to be inimitable. The Portland News says of "Senior and Junior:" "Each member of the company is a soloist and contributes to the general excellence of the whole. The singing is artistic and was finely rendered almost every number being encored repeatedly by the enthusiastic audience."

Moody's Meetings.

A large number of farmers with their wives and children, arrived this morning from Saanich to take part in the farewell meetings of the great evangelist.
